

A decision was made to publish an English language version of the book with an American publisher.

Thus, the contents from Chapters One to Ten have been deleted from the site. We believe that an English language book will be a global sensation. We sincerely hope that you will be able to extend your most generous support to this book.